Notice to Students and Parents of Post-School Follow-Up

As part of the federal Individuals with Disabilities Act 2004, all states are required to collect information on students with disabilities after leaving high school. In Nebraska, the data will be used to improve statewide services and to provide feedback to school districts to help them improve program to prepare student for life after high school. In order to collect this data, you will be asked to provide information before you leave high school on how you can be contacted in the future. Approximately one year after high school, you will be contacted by phone to gather information regarding your employment and educational experiences.
